Re: Olin Property, Wilmington, Massachusetts

Dear Ms. Johnson-Ball:

I am writing to oppose the concept of having the New England Transrail construct a solid waste reload facility in my neighborhood. Wilmington, MA has enough environmental issues going on and we do not need a facility like this in a residential neighborhood. I only live ½ mile from the Olin site and I would most likely have to move if a facility like this comes to town. We are a small town and adding something like this to our town is unfair. The trucks would have to travel through residential areas to get to and from the site, what about our children? I seriously hope your board looks at all the issues going on in our small town and does not vote to have a facility like this come to town.

Sincerely,

Lisa Steen
