Ms. Rutson, Pacific Legacy, Inc. would like to take this opportunity to introduce ourselves to you. We are a cultural resource consulting firm with four offices in California and two in Hawaii. Our California offices are located in Bishop, Santa Cruz, Berkeley, and Cameron Park. Our geographic locations allow us to efficiently service California and Nevada. We are GSA permitted and are on the referral lists of the BLM offices throughout the states of California and Nevada. We are also permitted through the State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) of both California and Nevada.

We are asking for the opportunity to participate in the development of the Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) cultural resources section for the DesertXpress High Speed Train between Victorville, CA and Las Vegas, NV. A project of this scope and size will require more than one firm conducting the fieldwork and preparation of the report. We would appreciate your considering us to be part of the team.

Thank you,
Harold Brewer

Pacific Legacy, Inc. is pleased to present our qualifications and offer our services to conduct cultural resource studies for you and your clients. We provide expert professional services in support of client compliance with state and federal historic preservation statutes such as the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA), Section 106 of National Historic Preservation Act (NHPA), and the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA). Our clientele includes local, state and federal agencies, multi-national engineering/environmental firms, and private individuals.

Pacific Legacy now has offices in Bishop, Santa Cruz, Berkeley, and Cameron Park in California, and in Kailua (Oahu), Hawaii. Our geographic locations allow us to effectively service a broad region of California and Nevada, but when specific projects require and extended attention, we establish local field offices capable of providing immediate response to our clients and their projects. Our experience covers the western United States including the Great Basin, California, and the Pacific Rim.

Pacific Legacy, Inc. is a small business dedicated to the responsible management of cultural resources. Each of our managing principals has more than 25 years of experience in cultural resource management, ensuring quality, expertise, and efficiency. We have extensive experience preparing historic preservation reports, management plans, consulting with State Historic Preservation Officers, the Advisory Board on Historic Preservation (ABHP), and preparing documents pursuant to the requirements of the NHPA. Our full-time staff consists of cultural resources scientists, archaeologists, and historians.
